

Sing along show

The curtain rose on the first night of Burton Operatic Society's sell out show Oaklahoma last night.

The show — which runs all this week at de Ferrers School in Harehedge Lane — is an old favourite with musical lovers and is guaranteed to be a success for the society.

Well-loved songs such as Oh What a Beautiful Morning and I'm Just a Girl Who Can't Say No delighted the show's first audience, with the magic of writers Rogers and Hammerstein proving just as effective as when it was first written.

● Oaklahoma . . . a sell out success for Burton Operatic Society. Mike Mear (left) and Steve Foster put in some last minute rehearsals before curtain-up last night.